The request for a player to move up a division can be considered only if the following criteria are met:

By-Law 17: Team Size

The intent is that each team will have a maximum number of 16 registered hockey players per house league team that may be dressed for a game under jurisdiction of GGHA, unless the team has two goaltenders in which case the team may be considered to have an opening for a 17th player. However, the GGHA Executive has the discretion to make teams larger or smaller, as required, to ensure a viable league within which the teams may compete.

By-Law 18: Team Selection

The prime objective when completing the team selection process must always be to create equally balanced teams. During the first two practices, the coaches, a unbiased non-GGHA member and a member of the GGHA executive will evaluate and rate all players. Once players have been rated, the coaches and a member of the GGHA executive will meet to draft teams. Drafting will be done by the coaches in the presence of the GGHA executive member. The order of selection will be determined by drawing a number out of a hat. The head coach's and the trainer's daughters will automatically be on the coach's team as long as the daughters are eligible to play in that division. Drafting will begin with each coach selecting a player using the player ranking list. A coach will forfeit their selection in the round their daughter and their trainer's daughter would have been selected. At the end of each round, selection will begin again in reverse order. i.e. the coach that had the last selection will begin the next round with the first selection. Goalies will be selected first followed by skaters. Coaches will be provided with a list of players that would like to play together and can take this into consideration in making their draft choices. However, no player requests are guaranteed. If a coach selects a player that has a sibling in the same division, siblings will be placed on the same team and that coach will not make a selection during the round where the siblings would have been selected. At the end of the selection process, coaches may choose, with the agreement of the GGHA executive member, to trade players of equal ranking to accommodate player requests. However, no player requests are guaranteed and all involved must keep in mind that the primary objective is balanced teams. Coaches should also take into consideration their team staff requirements in making their selections.

Prior to the start of the regular season each team will play a minimum of two exhibition games against the other division team(s) to assess the balance of all teams. If the teams are considered to not be balanced the GGHA Executive may move a small number of players to attempt to rebalance. At the first team meeting, coaches must inform all players that no teams are final until Oct. 31 and players could be moved to rebalance teams.

President Samantha Kelly	Secretary

Enacted by the Executive this 31 day of August, 2022.
